and I told him again, and he said: "Why don't you get a doctor?" I was standing there looking to see if I could see my wife, and I saw some one run out of Mrs. Moyer's porch, and they stopped, and I hurried to them to "Come over here, right quick," and about that time Mr. M. H. Clayton stepped up and said: "What is the trouble up there?" and I told him the same thing I told Mr. Jennings, and asked him to go and see if Dr. Lefew was badly hurt and let me know."

Lady on Sidewalk.
"This lady was standing over on the walk across the street when I told her: 'It was mighty bad, but I couldn't help it.' She still stood there, and I started up Commerce Street to see if I could find Mrs. Fishburne. I met Mr. Tallaferra, and he asked me what all that noise was up there, and I told him that Dr. Lefew had assaulted me and I cut him that the boys had been annoying me, and that I told Dr. Lefew and he got mad, and I cut him.

Fishburne Good Witness.

Mr. Fishburne was a good witness and generally held his own under cross-examination of Mr. Smith, which was kept up for two hours.

Edward Stone was recalled and interrogated in regard to the knife.

Mr. Floyd Hays testified that he saw Fishburne with the large knife on Saturday. The court waited about fifty minutes for witnesses for the defense, which were expected on the special from Pulaski, but after they arrived they were not used.

Judge Robertson then announced that the defense would close.

Commonwealth's Attorney Perkins stated that the Commonwealth had a number of witnesses in rebuttal, and court adjourned until to-morrow morning.

The United States marshal here to attempt to impeach the testimony of Mrs. Moyer, were Manager Strudwick, Mrs. Agnes Humbert, of the Maple Shade Inn; Dr. Chaffin and Mr. Burton. They returned to-night.

Generational developments are expected in the rebuttal evidence to be introduced to-morrow by the Commonwealth.

Meanwhile the men in public life and the men who direct the great business interests of the country should work not in antagonism but in harmony toward this great end. In entering a field where the progress must be made by the use of force, it is essential that the effort to make progress should be tentative and cautious.

We must grow by evolution, not by revolution. There must be no hurry, but there must also be no halt, and those who are anxious that there should be no sudden and violent changes must remember that precisely the same sudden and violent changes will be rendered likely if we refuse to make the need changes in cautious and moderate manner.

Interstate Commerce.

At the present moment the greatest need is for an increase in the power of the national government to keep the great highways of commerce open alike to all on equal and equitable terms. Less than a century ago these highways were still, as they had been since the dawn of history, either waterways, natural or artificial, or

Weak Kidneys

To any Kidney sufferer who has not tried my remedy, I offer a full dollar's worth free. No more sample bottles, no regular dollar bottles, standard size and shape.

There is nothing in either raw or later. I ask no deposit, no promise. You take no risk. The dollar bottle is free, because mine is a certain cure, and I feel sure of the results that I can afford to make this offer.

In the first place, my remedy does not treat the kidneys themselves. Such treatment is wrong. For the kidneys are not to blame for their weakness or irregularity. They have no power, no self-control. They are operated and actuated by a tiny strand of a nerve which is responsible for their order and action. If the Kidney nerve is strong and healthy, the kidneys are strong and healthy. If the Kidney nerve is weak, the kidneys are weak. The result is kidney trouble.

This tender nerve is only one of a great system of nerves, this system controls not only the kidneys, but the heart and the liver, and the stomach, for simplicity's sake, I have called this great nerve system the "Inside Nerve".

They are not the nerves of feeling—not the nerves that enable you to feel. They are the nerves that control the master nerve and every vital organ in their system. The common name for these nerves is the "Sympathetic".

himself, would willingly give, and which is of course, the only way to the small shipper. Every important railroad is engaged in interstate commerce. Therefore, this control over the railroad route must be through the national government.

Rate Regulation.

The difficulty must rest with the law. The law of the two houses of Congress, but about the principle there can be no doubt.

Healy's vindictive action would merely make matters worse, but in temperate, rational fashion, there must be lodged in some tribunal the power over rates, and especially over rebates—whether secured by means of private cars, of private tracks, in the form of damages, or commissions, or in any other manner—which will protect alike the railroad and the shipper, and put the big shipper and the little shipper on an equal footing.

Doubtless no law would accomplish all that enthusiasts hope; there is always disappointment over the results of such a law among the over-cautious. We are not yet a nation of law, and has come from the legislation and administration of the last few years; and now, as part of a coherent plan, necessary to enact an additional law which will mean further progress along the same lines of definite achievement, in the direction of securing fair dealing as between man and man.

In some such body as the Interstate Commerce Commission, there must be lodged in effective shape the power to see that every shipper who uses the railroads and every man who owns or manages a railroad shall on the one hand be given justice and on the other hand be required to do justice.

Justice, so far as it is humanly possible to give and to get justice, is the foundation of all good government. We are not trying to strike down the rich man; on the contrary, we will not tolerate any attack upon his rights. We are not trying to give an improper advantage to the poor man because he is poor; to the man of small means because he has not larger means; but we are striving to see that the man of small means has exactly as good a chance so far as we can obtain it for him, as the man of large means. That there shall be equality of opportunity for the poor as for the other.

We do not intend that this republic shall ever fall as those republics of olden time failed, in which there finally came to be a government by classes; which resulted either in the complete destruction of the republic, or in the ruin of the poor, for either event means the destruction of the institution and of individual liberty. Ours is not a government which recognizes classes. It is based on the recognition of the individual. We are not for the poor man as such; nor for the rich man as such. We are for every man, rich or poor, provided he gives and gets justice by his fellow-citizens. If he does not, government must do all it can to see that inasmuch as he does no wrong, so he shall suffer no wrong.
